INDIAN CREEK IS SWEEPED BY FLAMES; FOUR DWELLINGS AND
A STORE TOTALLY DESTROYED*Connellsville Fire Department
Checks the Fire
With Chemicals.*DEFECTIVE FLUE IS BLAMED

Fire is said to have started in the home of Edward Wierick, which spreads rapidly through the house for most part saved; no insurance.

Fire originating in a frame dwelling, next to A. Stiekel's and Company's store at Indian Creek, shortly before noon today totally destroyed the house, the store and three other residences. There was no insurance on the properties. The Connellsville fire department and the Baltimore & Ohio firemen responded to a call for assistance about 1 o'clock, the city firemen taking truck No. 2, which was slipped by special team.

All the buildings except one were the property of the McFarland Lumber Company, Mrs. A. C. Stiekel owned one. They were occupied by Bruce Miller, F. W. Dabrock, Edward Wierick and Walter Smith.

The fire originated in the residence of Edward Wierick about 11 o'clock and spread rapidly to the Stiekel store and the three other residences. The house of F. W. Dabrock was saved by the use of chemicals.

The frame structures were very dry to the flames and, there being no fire fighting apparatus, they burned quickly. One by one the structures were consumed and the fury of the flames was so great that the Baltimore & Ohio box cars standing on a siding some distance away from the burning buildings also caught fire and were destroyed. The occupants were able to save many of their belongings.

At 12 o'clock, the fire sweep area was a mass of smoking ruins and the families were homeless. F. W. Miller, clerk in the store, resided in part of the building. He lost much of his household goods. Milton F. Stiekel, the store manager, resides in Connellsville.

Details of the fire were hard to get because the only telephone connection between Indian Creek and the city was severed by the flames. A defective flue in the Wierick home is believed to have started the blaze. It had gotten a good start before it was discovered. There was no means of heating the flames so the occupants had to direct their efforts toward preventing it spread and saving their household goods. No one was hurt.

When a call came from the Connellsville firemen, the Baltimore & Ohio officials made up a special train consisting of an engine and flat car. The small truck was loaded below city hall and a quick run was made to the scene of the conflagration. The firemen were in time to assist in saving F. W. Dabrock's home and prevent the flames from completely wiping out the little village.

Indian Creek has been particularly unfortunate in recent years, a number of disastrous fires having occurred. A number of persons were burned to death about two years ago when several dwellings burned down.

A. C. Stiekel received word about 1 o'clock that the Stiekel store and three dwellings of the McFarland Company and one owned by his mother, Mrs. Catherine Stiekel, had been destroyed. He was unable to fix the amount of loss but said as far as he knew there was no insurance on the properties.

The postoffice, which was in Stiekel's store, also was burned, but all the mail matter was taken out before the flames reached it.

MANY NUTS ARRIVE

Two Carloads Are Received Here by Wholesale Concerns.

Two carloads of English walnuts were received by two wholesalers yesterday. This was the largest consignment of nuts ever received in the city and teams were busy all day hauling them from the freight sidings.

English walnuts are said to be highly nutritious, consequently Connellsville's nut-eating population should not complain of malnutrition during the rest of the winter. Those addicted to the intoxicating nut sundries are assured of an unlimited supply.

The nuts came from California, not from England.

PAY FOR DAMAGE.

Two Negroes Settle Prosecution for Malicious Mischief.

Sam Alexander and Hester Wilhelm, charged by Mrs. Carlisle Johnson with malicious mischief, paid damages to the prosecutor and the costs of the case, after a hearing before Alderman Fred Monk last night. All the parties concerned are released.

Firemen Seek Descriptions.

The firemen are still soliciting subscriptions for the Halloween celebration to be held here on Wednesday evening of October 27. Until the soliciting is completed, further plans for the affair will not be made.

ITALIANS PUSH FORWARD.
VIENNA, via London, Oct. 13.—The Italians are maintaining their attacks on the Austrians without cessation and desperate fighting continued throughout yesterday. At other points the utmost efforts of the Italians gained nothing for them. The number of Italian prisoners has been increased to 2,700.

AUSTRIANS ARE RAISING.

FALSE LABELS ON DEMOCRATIC ACTS
EXPOSED BY KNOX

Former Secretary of State
Exposes Shams of Administration.

CAN'T FOOL PUBLIC, HE SAYS

Cites Eight Hour Law, Which Isn't What Democrats Profess It to be as Example of "Misbranding." Opens Campaign in Westmoreland County.

Special to The Courier.

GREENSBURG, Oct. 13.—Former Secretary of State Philander C. Knox and other candidates on the Republican state ticket this evening opened the Republican campaign in Westmoreland county with a rousing meeting in the armory. Secretary of the Commonwealth Cyrus F. Woods presided and introduced the speakers. Mr. Knox made the principal address and was given most cordial greeting. His speech was devoted to showing up the shams and inconsistencies of the Democracy. He pointed out many broken platform pledges, but directed his attention in the main to exposing the so-called eight-hour law recently passed by Congress.

"This is not an eight-hour law," he said. "It is a case of misbranding. It is a man put a false label on a can of beans he could be fined and sent to jail for it. But there is no law to prevent politicians misbranding their wares. However, thank God, there is no law to prevent the people from breaking open the package and examining the contents for themselves."

"This Mr. Knox proceeded to do and he showed how, by an amendment of three words, this act could have been made to include all the men employed upon railroads engaged in the interstate commerce, instead of the few who are members of the brotherhoods. Speeches were made by James McLaughlin and M. M. Garland, candidates for Congressmen-at-large, and Charles A. Snyder, candidate for Auditor General.

Mr. Knox in his address said: "With political parties as with individuals, it pays to be honest. Very seldom has the electorate been sufficiently deceived to influence an election and whenever this has occurred the public has not hesitated to right the wrong and wreak its vengeance upon the guilty parties when the deception was disclosed."

"The Democratic party in this campaign is offering spurious wares to the public in an effort to re-elect President Wilson. It is practicing deception which should be exposed to the world; it is misbranding its goods with all the offensiveness of the dishonest merchant who sells you oleomargarine for butter, or sand for sugar."

"It is bidding for the votes of the working men with a so-called eight-hour law which is no eight-hour law at all, but merely a sham, and jeopardizes the freedom and vital interests of labor generally."

"It seeks to enlist the sympathies of the unthinking people of the land with a child labor law which is illogical and ineffective, and contains none of the strong, vital, protective features of the Pennsylvania child labor law."

"It asks approval of a ruinous Democratic tariff law by crediting it to the temporary prosperity that has come as the direct result of the European War and which has concealed for the time the real disaster which lies ahead of us upon the cessation of hostilities in Europe."

"It endeavors to hide a record of profligate extravagance in Congressional appropriations and a depleted treasury behind a program of national preparedness."

"Under the pretense of providing better government, it has violated its pledge of economy in administration and has created more than 20,000 additional salaried offices for 'do-servicing Democrats'."

"President Wilson has publicly claimed for the Democratic party the credit for giving the country the Federal reserve law, when as a matter of fact this law was modeled after the Aldrich currency law, the passage of which was prevented by the Democrats in Congress."

"The President also has claimed that the new Federal reserve law prevented a panic in 1914, when as a matter of fact, his own son-in-law, Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, has stated officially that the panic was prevented by the Republican Aldrich-Vreeland emergency currency law and not by the Federal reserve law."

"This list of false claims could be extended indefinitely. We hear them uttered from every stump from Shadyside to the Golden Gate, and we read them in every publication that has espoused the cause of the 'President of Humanity.'"

"Behind these masks of virtue and honest effort in the public interest, the Democratic Administration comes to you asking for your approval and four years more in office."

"This is no time for polite mincing of words. The people should be brought to a full realization of the shams they are asked to endorse, so they may go to the polls with their eyes open and may accept full responsibility for the course they pursue."

THE HOME-COMING HAD ITS SADNESS
FOR TWO GUARDSMEN

The homecoming of the Tenth was not without its pathetic features to mar the otherwise joyous occasion. As noted in The Courier yesterday Sergeant P. G. Cobel of Company C, of Somerset, and a former teacher in the Connellsville High School, reached home on the night of the day his father was buried.

Another member of the regiment had an even more distressing experience. A private of Company L of Blairsville, reached home a few days after the burial of his only child, a baby boy born shortly after his father had left for the border and which had died shortly after he had left the border for home.

U. S. DESTROYERS
SEEKING SECRET
BASE OF U-BOATS

Admiral Mayo Orders a Survey of the New England Coast.

TO PRESERVE U. S. NEUTRALITY

Cordon of Destroyers Begins Patrol Extending From New York to New Harbor; Reserve Fleet Keeps U. S. Steam, Ready for Any Call of Duty.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Admiral Mayo, commanding the Atlantic fleet, notified the Navy Department today that he had ordered a survey of the New England coast to investigate reports that belligerent ships have established a base there or that warless plants were being operated in violation of American neutrality.

COAST IS PATROLLED.

NEWPORT R. I., Oct. 13.—A far-ranging patrol by torpedo boat destroyers, charged with the double duty of enforcing neutrality observance and saving lives in event of further submarine raids on shipping off these shores, was put into effect from Bar Harbor, Me., to New York, today. Official authority for the statement, that such a patrol had been ordered by the Navy Department was obtained here this morning.

The limits of the line of coast surveillance at present effective was shown today with the arrival of the destroyer Paulding of Bar Harbor, Me., and the activity of the Sternitz in New York harbor. Between these two outposts nine other destroyers were weaving a net of observation that extended a considerable distance out to sea well beyond the lanes of coastwise vessels.

In Narragansett Bay seven other destroyers were kept at routine target practice with steam constantly up, available for an emergency call. The fuel ship Jason, which left here recently with a full supply of oil, came in during the night for more. All vessels, it was said, were well provisioned.

The operations of the patrol are being directed from the flagship Birmingham, headquarters of Rear Admiral Albert Gleaves. The Birmingham is at this port, also in readiness to move at any moment.

Except in war game maneuvers the coast has not been covered by naval forces in such manner for years.

FIGURES COINCIDE

Those for October 13 Are Identical in 1915 and 1916.

By an odd coincidence the temperature figures for Friday, October 13, 1916, are identical with those of Wednesday, October 13, 1915.

Comparison of temperature figures shows that the records vary widely from year to year. While the same maximum, minimum and mean records may occur on one or more days of the same year, to find that they are identical for the same date on succeeding years is unusual.

The readings for the 13th this year and last are: Maximum 70, minimum 48, and mean 59.

75 Guardsmen Desert.

JACKSON, Mich., Oct. 13.—Seventy-five members of the First Regiment, dissatisfied because they have been kept in camp near here when other guard organizations have been sent to the border, have disappeared, officers said today. Charges of desertion are pending against 12 guardsmen.

Partly cloudy and cooler tonight. Saturday fair and cooler, is the noon weather forecast for Western Pennsylvania.

WILL ERECT BIG BILLBOARDS TO ADVERTISE CITY

They are to be Placed Along the Railroads Entering Town.

ASSOCIATION AFTER INDUSTRIES

Aggressive Campaign Planned by the Business & Professional Men's Association; New Members, and More Activity by Old Ones is Aim.

Billboards will be used by the Business & Professional Men's Association to advertise Connellsville as a location for industrial plants. At a meeting last night it was decided to build large signs on the outskirts of the city along the lines of the four railroads. The matter was placed in the hands of a committee composed of W. O. Adrian, chairman; T. S. Barker, H. L. Slick and W. P. Schenck with instructions to place the boards as soon as possible.

Discussion of Connellsville's future ensued and it was decided to wage an aggressive campaign for other new industries than those secured in the last few months. A permanent industrial committee to investigate any concerns looking for sites was formed. It consists of F. T. Evans, chairman; F. E. Markell, F. W. Wright, W. D. McGinnis, Robert Norris, C. A. Crowley, John Duggan, W. R. Kenner, David Wertheimer and T. J. Hooper.

The association declared in favor of the movement to secure passenger service between Connellsville and Brownsville over the Whitsett cutoff and all members present signed a petition asking the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie to put in such trains.

Grade crossings were discussed, but the association felt that it was council's place to go after the Pennsylvania railroad to secure safety gates.

A committee was named to take charge of the proposed Industrial Exposition to be held next February. This consists of W. P. Schenck, chairman; D. E. Treher, W. O. Adrian, C. A. Crowley and J. G. Tippman. A meeting will be held next week to select a date and work out other details. A number of booths have already been taken.

A standing membership committee to secure new members and create interest in the association's activities among the old ones was appointed. H. L. Slick is chairman and T. S. Barker, D. E. Treher, Alfred Koback and J. M. Sembover are the other members. This committee met after the regular meeting to plan a big meeting of the association in November.

An advertising committee was named as follows: W. O. Adrian, chairman; J. G. Tippman, Edward Duer, C. A. Crowley and C. I. Cotton.

In answer to a request from the Bureau of Naturalization of the United States Department of Labor to co-operate with them in the matter of influencing foreigners in this district to attend the public night schools, the association voted to render any aid possible in this matter. The bureau will distribute a student's text book to all such foreigners which deals with English, civil government, history and citizenship duties.

TENTH BAND HOME

Musicians Make a Fine Record While On Border Duty.

The Tenth Regiment Band, now located at Greensburg, but in which there are several local musicians, came home along with Company I of Greensburg Wednesday night, after making all sorts of records for itself on the border. It will be stationed at regimental headquarters until the mustering out of troops takes place.

The Tenth band established itself as the best regimental band on the border, just as the Tenth Regiment achieved the distinction of having the largest number of men on its roster of all the regiments called for border duty. It had 1,324 men and 55 officers.

Charles E. Thomas and James Decker of Connellsville, are members of the Tenth band.

The Tenth was made up of the following companies: A, Monongahela City; B, New Brighton; C, Somerset; D, Connellsville; E, Mount Pleasant; F, Indiana; G, Hollidaysburg; H, Washington; I, Greensburg; K, Waynesburg; L, Blairsville, and M, Latrobe.

FLAG IS STOLEN.

Foster Critchfield's Banner Disappears After Celebration.

Foster Critchfield is indignant over the theft of a big American flag which he had hoisted above his shop on North Pittsburg street. The flag was torn down some time Tuesday night or Wednesday morning, after the Company D boys had arrived.

City Detective Mitchell has been working on the case, and is ready to make arrests, it is said. Foster says he considers the person who tears down the American flag the very "meanest man." He says he will not prosecute if the flag is returned.

Child Recovers.

The small child of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Forsythe of Oneonta, N. Y., who has been ill of infantile paralysis, has recovered.

SOLDIERS ARE STILL ON DUTY

Report at Armory Daily Pending Arrival of Officer to Muster Them Out.

Company D and the regimental hospital corps was returned from four months' border duty on Wednesday night are still stationed at the armory waiting to be mustered out of the federal service. They are subject to the regular military routine, but Captain R. S. Morton allowed the boys freedom to do about what they pleased yesterday and it is unlikely that much hard work will be done in the interval between now and the arrival of the mustering out officer.

A regular army officer will do the mustering out. Each man will be required to undergo a physical examination. Just how strict this will be depends upon the surgeon who makes the examination. Veterans of the Spanish-American War state that when they were mustered out at San Francisco 17 years ago, they were not put through nearly so severe a test as when they were examined for admission to the guard. The mustering out examination is to see if the men have been disabled in any way in the federal service. If they have, and the examiners concede the fact, claims for pensions may be filed. A man who shows up a clean bill of health, has no chance of getting a pension.

Survivors of the Spanish War and Philippine Insurrection now recount with considerable humor the efforts of some of their comrades to establish cause for pension claims. Some of them know to be perfectly healthy managed to fool the examiners with symptoms and got their $6 a month pensions.

The mustered out guardsmen are also required to make an accounting of the property of the federal government now in their possession.

SOLDIER BOYS ARE TO PLAY

Miller, Martney, and Darr Expected to Take Part in Tomorrow's Game.

Three of the soldier boys of the high school football team, Dewey Miller, James Darr and William Martney, were out for practice last night and will play against Westinghouse high school at Fayette Field tomorrow. The coaches report that the veterans put new life into the lineup. Fred Daniels, another guardsman, returned to school today and will join the squad tonight. Walter Rogers, the other soldier-student, will probably start the game at guard.

Tomorrow's game will be the first football contest with a Pittsburgh high school at Fayette Field, consequently a big crowd is expected. It will start promptly at 3 P. M. O. R. Herwick will referee and S. R. Mostreant will umpire.

The tentative lineup shows Langhrey or Dehot, left end, Moore left tackle, Carson, left guard, McCormick center, Rogers or Buttermore, right guard, Lochter, right tackle, Martney, right end; Miller, quarter; Darr and Vincent Duggan, half back; Paul Duggan, full back.

Duquesne Apprentice school will play here on Thanksgiving Day instead of Tarentum. The Tarentum boys have been invited to see Pitt on that day, consequently the local contest was cancelled.

Uniontown high plays Greensburg on Saturday.

FIND CHECKS WAITING

Many Returning Soldiers Cash Back Salaries That Were Paid.

A number of the Connellsville soldiers who returned from the border found substantial checks waiting for them at the offices of the companies they worked for prior to their departure for the border. One Baltimore & Ohio trainman found a check for $253 waiting for him. It represented four months' pay and some money that was due him when he went away.

The Baltimore & Ohio paid the regular wages of all its employees who were in the guard, to members of their families or other dependents each month. Some of the boys, however, failed to name anyone to whom their wages were to be paid and after four months' absence they found substantial checks ready for them.

The H. C. Frick Coke Company and other plans also made arrangements to pay soldier boys in their employ before they were called to the border.

GUARDSMAN KILLED.

Sauer, who was on guard, claims that he was examining his rifle when it was accidentally discharged.

TWO NEGROES HOLD UP A SOLDIER; ROB
HIM OF VALUABLES

Corporal Sager, Home From Panama on Furlough, is Attacked.

STRUCK ON HEAD BY BLACKJACK

While Returning From Visit to Friend Who Works at Power House He is Accosted by Highwayman; Loses $13, Medal of Honor and Papers.

Struck on the head with a blackjack by two negroes, Corporal M. H. Sager, Company E, Fifth United States Infantry, Canal Zone, Panama, was robbed of $13.85 in money, his overcoat and other valuables near the West Penn power house at Fayette station last night. The highwaymen fled after firing a shot in the air.

Corporal Sager notified the police of Dunbar and Connellsville as soon as he recovered from the effects of the blow. Chief of Police B. Rottler of this city went to the scene, but found no trace of the soldier's assailants.

Corporal Sager, whose home is on the South Side, Pittsburg, is home on a furlough. He came to Connellsville to call upon Fred Evans, a relative, who is employed at the West Penn power house.

While waiting for a street car, he was accosted by a negro who asked for a match. While the corporal was going through his pockets in search of one, he was struck from behind just above the neck. Though stunned from the blow, Corporal Sager was compelled to stand with hands up while his assailants went through his clothes. Each of them wielded a revolver. The lining was torn from the officer's cap and his leggings torn open in the search for money.

The robbers took $13.85 in money all the corporal had on his person, some valuable papers, among them his furlough, and a gold honor medal awarded to Corporal Sager by the federal government in 1899 for distinguished service in action in the Philippines.

The highwaymen were both negroes, rough looking and dressed in overalls.

GETS 30 DAYS

Wheeler Man Goes to Jail After Nap on Sidewalk.

Mayor Marietta presided at police court today, hearing the cases of 12 prisoners. Fines received amounted to $11.

Charles Cuberion of Wheeler drew a 30 day jail sentence. Charles was charged with being drunk and sleeping on the street. But Patrolman Turner, who made the arrest, informed the mayor that the offender has frequently been seen following and annoying women on the street. Cuberion could not pay a $30 fine and so was sent to jail.

It cost the Mervis livery stable $1 this morning, because a cow belonging to the owners of the stable got loose and ran at large last evening. The cow was "arrested" at 8:40 o'clock," according to an entry on the docket.

Mr. Fairchild was a brakeman and was on his way to work when he met his death. He boarded at the home of Mrs. Feeley in Cumberland and was a member of the Cumberland Lodge of Elks.

FELDAY, THE 13th.

Nasty Rain Is About the Only Hard Luck in Evidence.

Today, Friday, October 13, 1916, ought to be a hoodoo day, according to tradition and superstition. The combination of "Black Friday" and the 13th day of the month would seem to augur nothing but ill. Incidentally, October has the only "Friday, the 13th" in 1916. Last year the 13th came on Friday three times.

The weather was not good early in the day, but outside of that nothing seemed to

FOOD SOURING IN STOMACH CAUSES INDIGESTION, GAS

"Pape's Diapepsin" Ends
All Stomach Distress in Five Minutes.

Wonder what upset your stomach— which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt, if you are gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aching; belch gases and acids and eructate indigestion food; heart full, tongue coated— just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is useless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.—Adv.

Helen Ritchie, Zana Fretts and Mary Hough. The ladies who were aides to Mrs. Ingalls were Mrs. Elbert Graft, Mrs. J. N. King and Mrs. H. D. Porterfield. At 7 o'clock after a most enjoyable time the guests departed thanking Mrs. Ingalls for her hospitality.

DYSPEPSIA OF WOMEN Special Treatment Required.

Many women suffer from a form of indigestion or dyspepsia which does not yield to ordinary treatment. While the symptoms are similar to those of ordinary indigestion, yet the medicines usually prescribed do not restore the patient's normal condition.

There seems to be a kind of dyspepsia caused by derangement of the female organism. While this appears to be the same as ordinary indigestion it can be relieved only by a medicine which besides acting as a stomach tonic, is good for female ailments. Read what such a medicine did for Mrs. Williams—

She says:—"Before I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was troubled with dyspepsia and bearing down pains in my back and sides, and after my meals my stomach would bloat up till I could scarcely get my breath. At times I was so weak I could hardly stand on my feet and I looked hallow-eyed."

and my skin was yellow. Now I have a good color, have gained in every way and can do my work without any pains. I think it is the best medicine on earth for stomach troubles of women."—Mrs. NELLIE WILLIAMS, 31 West 3d Street, New Albany, Ind.

BOSTON IS ONCE MORE CHAMPION TEAM OF WORLD

Red Sox Humble Robins in the Deciding Game of Series.

SHORE GIVES THREE HITS

Outpitches Pfeffer, Brooklyn's Last Hope; Superbas Make Flying Start But Are Unable to Check Opponents; Big Money Made by Teams.

By Associated Press.
BOSTON, Oct. 13.—The Boston Americans finally clinched the championship laurels of the baseball universe upon their brow here yesterday afternoon when they defeated the Brooklyn Nationals by a score of 4 to 1 in the fifth and final game of the world's series of 1916.

The greatest gathering in the history of the American national sport witnessed the victory, 42,620 departing after the contest, convinced that the Red Sox were the baseball machine par excellence of recent years.

As a result of the four games to one conquest over the standard bearers of the National League, Boston is today celebrating its fifth victory in world's series since 1903 and there is added joy in the fact that never in its history has a Boston team been forced to bow to the superior prowess of a rival in such combat.

The victory over the Superbas in the final meeting of the teams was so clean cut and decisive that there was left no ground for argument. That the better team won the championship despite the determined battles put up by Brooklyn in the earlier games of the season was obvious. Before the speed and curves of Ernest Shore, of East Bend, N. C., the Superbas were well nigh helpless while Jeff Pfeffer, the last hope of Brooklyn, proved unequal to the task of holding the Red Sox in check.

Although the Nationals were first to score, the advantage was short lived and once the Bostoners unlimbered their heavy batting artillery, any doubt regarding the outcome of the game was dissipated, so closely did Shore hold the Brooklyn in the mystery of his deceptive delivery. The invaders from Greater New York were able to score only three hits for a similar total of bases and the solitary run scored was unearned. It was the result of a pass, a sacrifice, an out and a passed ball. Boston, on the other hand, collected 10 bases on seven hits and two of its four runs were earned.

Although the contest was played before a record throng of fans, there was only a moderate amount of enthusiasm, the chilling weather and the ease with which the Sox disposed of their opponents dulling the edge of such outburst as sprang from grandstands and bleachers at the more thrilling points of the game. The day was bitter cold with a piercing wind from the east and while the sun shone from a cloudless sky there was little if any warmth in its rays. The 42,620 spectators who paid $33,873 to witness the triumph of the American League champions, came prepared for the November-like weather. Overcoats, fur wraps, heavy gloves and in fact everything except car laps were much in evidence and fully appreciated by their fortunate wearers.

Aside from Shore's clever cold weather hurling and a sensational running shoe top catch by Wheat off Shore in the fifth and its mate by Lewis in the eighth when he robbed Mearns, batting for Pfeffer, of an apparently sure double, the game was devoid of feature plays.

Immediately after Scott had clinched the championship by gobbling Mowrey's short fly for the final out of the game, the younger element among the spectators rushed on to the field and fell in behind the loyal Rooters and their band for a parade. On the first circuit of the diamond they captured President J. J. Lannan of the Boston club and then crossed the field after President C. H. Ebbetts of Brooklyn. Amid the cheers of the fans the rival club executives joined arms and led the march while thousands in the stands watched the celebration.

The players, however, did not wait to take part in the impromptu ceremonies. Both the Red Sox and the Superbas hurried to the dressing rooms and there were few if any congratulations. Manager Robinson did not meet Carrigan in his dash across the field and there was no public greeting or handshake between the pair. Many of the fans, however, shook hands with the Red Sox players and with Manager Carrigan who said again that he had retired from professional baseball with today's game.

As was the case in Wednesday's game, Brooklyn was the first to score. Its only and unearned tally came in the second session when Shore issued his only pass of the day, franking Cutshaw to first. Mowrey sacrificed him to second from which point he moved to third on Olson's infield out and scored when Shore uncovered the plate with a passed ball.

Boston immediately tied the score in their half of the same inning when Lewis tripled to left and came home as Wheat threw the ball, recovered from Gardner's high fly, wide of the plate in an effort to get Lewis at the plate.

The Red Sox added two more in their next turn at bat. Cady hit a boundary over Daubert's head. Hooper walked and Cady scored when Olson threw Jaunvris's boundary into center field in an uncompleted double play.

Hooper romped home from third on Shorten's hit over second. The fourth and final run was manufactured in the fifth on Hooper's single and Jaunvris's double. After that the Red Sox, aided by Shore's airtight pitching, played defensive ball and the Superbas never threatened.

Attendance for the five games amounted to 162,369 and the receipts $395,690.50.

Of this sum the players received

$162,927.45, each club $92,052.02 and the National Commission $38,559.05. The Boston club, as winners, divided $97,756.47 on a basis of 25 shares which the players are understood to have agreed upon as the method of apportionment. This would allow $3,910.26 a share. The 25 Brooklyn players, as losers, divide $55,170.96 into equal shares of $2,206.84 each. Owing to the fact that there are more players to share in the winner's money this year the individual share is not a record. The score:

FRAIL, SICKLY CHILD

Father Tells How Boy was Restored to Health and Strength.

We have always told the people of Connelleville that Vinol is a wonderful body builder for all children. Here is more proof of the fact: "Our little boy was puny and cross from the time he was born, and we hardly knew how to handle him. When he was three years old he was weak and so cross we could hardly live with him and we could not get him to eat anything. A friend asked us to try Vinol. We did so and you should see the change it has made in him. He is now a good-natured, healthy youngster, ready to eat at any time, and we cannot praise Vinol enough."

Vinol is especially efficient in building up puny, weak, ailing children, because of the beef and cod liver phosphates, iron and manganese phosphates and glycerophosphates which it contains, and as it is without oil or grease, children love to take it.—Adv.

We put it up to Hundreds of Dentists

Long before SENRECO was offered to you we submitted it to hundreds of dentists, requesting that they put it to every test. Told them that we believed Senreco to be an unusually good dentifrice, especially so to its cleansing qualities and its remedial action on sore, soft, bleeding gums; in the treatment of Pyorrhea, etc. Submitted the formula and asked them their opinion. They tested Senreco from every angle; some going even so far as to make a chemical analysis—

And They Voted Yes

With practically one accord—said—

"Senreco appeals to me more than any dentifrice I have ever seen." "I cannot say too much for Senreco. It's one of the best I have used." "I can recommend Senreco as the best." "Makes the teeth gleam and is free from injurious ingredients, including powder and grit." "I am indeed glad to get a tooth paste that does the work." "Congratulations on your formulating a dentifrice that gives one a new idea of mouth cleanliness, etc." (These quotations are from the dentists' reports. Obtain them on file at our office.)

With such endorsements from the men who know why not go to your dealer today and get a tube of SENRECO—25c. Keep your teeth REALLY CLEAN, and protect yourself against Pyorrhea and decay.

A copy of the folder, "The Most General Disease in the World" together with a liberal trial size tube of SENRECO will be mailed you for 5c in stamps. The Sentinal Remedies Co., Inc. Dept. B, Masonic Temple, Cincinnati, Ohio.

CHAPTER XIV:
A Red Episode.

OVERLAND RED, despite his outward regeneration, was Overland Red still, only a little more so. His overwhelming apparel accentuated his peculiarities, his humorous features, his alert wit, his coolness. But there was something big, forceful and wholesome about the man, something that attracted despite his incongruities.

Young Dr. Marshall studied him, racking his memory for a name. Presently he turned to his wife. "What was Billy's partner's name—the miner? I've forgotten."

"A Mr. Summers, I believe. Yes, I'm sure. Jack Summers Billy called him in his letters."

"Just a minute," said the doctor, turning to Overland, who sat, huge limited, smiling, red whiskered, happy. "Fardon me. You said Mr. Jack Summers, I believe. Do you happen to know a Mr. Withthrop, Billy Withthrop?"

"Me? What, Billy? Billy Withthrop? Say, is this me? I inherited a whole lot of gasoline coming up that grade, but I ain't feelin' dizzy. Billy Withthrop? Why—? And his exclamation subsided as he asked cautiously, "Did you know him?"

"I am his sister," said Anne Marshall.

Overland was dumfounded. "His sister," he muttered, "the one who wrote in New York. Huh! Yes; me and Billy's partner."

"Is he in he better?" asked Anne hesitatingly.

"Better! Say, lady, excuse me if I tell you he's settin' so blue as flint that he's got me scared. Why, I left him settin' on a rock eatin' a sardine sandwich with one hand and shootin' holes in all the tin cans in sight with the other. So long, Red," he bellowed as I lit out with the burro to cross the range. "So long, and don't let your feet slip! And pom! goes the tin that he was jugglin', and another tin can passed over. He takes a bit from the sandwich, and then pom! goes the gun again, and another tin can biter the dust, just as free and easy as if he wasn't keepin' guard over thirty or forty thousand dollars' worth of gold dust and trouble, and just as if he ain't got no lungs at all."

Overland Red was concluding his last yarn, a most amazing account of "the night the Plancher boys shot up Abilene."

It was exactly 2 o'clock by Dr. Marshall's watch.

"Both my guns was choked up with burnt powder, I reached down and borrowed two guns of a gent what wasn't usin' his gun then. Next day I was elected sheriff unannounced. They was seven of us left standin'. That was back in '08." Overland yawned and stood up.

"The boys are all asleep now," said Walter Stone. "We have plenty of room here. You'll not object to taking one of the guest rooms as you find it, I'm sure."

"For better or for worse, as the pots says," said Overland grinning. "But I got to put that little chatter to rest somewhere."

"That's so."

"I'll go, wake him up," said Overland, strode to the racing car. The "chatter" had departed for parts unknown.

"I guess he was scared at that last grade," said Overland, returning to the house. "He's gone. He must 'a' been scared to beat it back down the road afore."

"Perhaps he has gone to the stables," said Stone. "Well, we'll take care of you here. You can see Collie in the morning."

Overland, closing the door of the spacious, cool guest room, glanced about curiously. What was it made the place seem so different from even the most expensive hotel suite? The furniture was very plain. The decorations were soft toned and simple. "It's—it's because the room girl lives here, I guess," he mused. "Now, this kind of a room would just suit Billy, but it makes me feel like walkin' on eggs. This here grade is too good for me."

He undressed slowly, folding his unaccustomed garments with great care.

"Who the deuce are you talkin' to?" Saunders asked venomously, and his eyes narrowed.

Overland grinned and carelessly shifted the barrel of his gun from beneath which peeped the butt of his automatic pistol. Collie felt his scalp quivering. There was something tense and suggestive in the air.

"I'm talkin' to a fella that ought to know better than to get assy to me," said Overland, "or to cut my trail like that."

Saunders rode on.

"Seen him before?" asked Collie.

"Yep. Twice—over the out of a gun. He come visitin' me and Billy at a

"A feller ought to know better than to get assy to me," said Overland.

water hole out in the dry spot. We got to exchangin' opinions. Two of mine he ain't forgot, I guess."

"Saunders is brandin' above the elbows on both arms," said Collie. "He's been shot up pretty bad."

"You don't tell! Wonder how that happened. Mebbe he was practicin' the double roll and got careless. Now, I wonder."

"He's one of the bunch?" said Collie, suddenly awake to the situation. "Come on over to the bunk house, where we can talk, Red. I'll introduce you regular to Silent."

"All right. Here, you walk on the other side. I'm left handed when I shake with him."

But Saunders was not at the bunk house. Instead he had ridden on down to the gate and out upon the Moonstone trail. He had become acquainted with Deputy Tenlow. He would make things interesting for the man who had whined him out in the desert.

Anne Marshall had stepped from the porch to the living room. Overland was alone with Louise. Facing her quickly, his eyes bunter gone, his blue eyes intense, uncreased, magnetic, he drew a deep breath. "They're waitin' for me down the canyon about now," he said, and his tone explained his speech.

Louise frowned slightly, studying his face. "That is unfortunate just now," she said slowly.

"Or must you time—for the other fella," responded Overland cheerfully.

The girl gazed at the toe of her slipper. "I know you didn't speak because you were afraid. What do you intend?"

"If I ain't oversteppin' the rules in invitin' you—why, I was goin' to say: Miss Lacharme, wouldn't you like to take a little buggy ride to the Guzzuh, nice and slow. She's a awful easy ridin' if you don't rein her too strong."

"I don't know," said Louise pensively. "Your car can only hold two?"

"Yes, ma'am."

"I couldn't run away and leave Mrs. Marshall. Of course you would go on after—after we were in the valley. How could I get back?"

"That's so!" exclaimed Overland, with some subtlety, pretending he had not thought of that contingency.

"Course Collie could ride down ahead with a spare horse. You see, the sheriff sent and Saunders—"

"Saunders! Our man Saunders?"

"Uhuh. Me and him ain't friends exactly. I figure he's rode down to tell the Tenlow man that I'm up here."

"You are sure?"

"Yes, miss. I don't make no mistakes above him."

"Then one of our men has gone to get the deputy to arrest you, and you are our guest."

"Thanks, miss, for sayin' that. It's worth gettin' pinched to be your guest."

"I did intend to ride down for the mail. Boyer needs exercising."

"So does the Guzzuh, miss. It's queer how she acts when she ain't been worked every day."

"I don't believe Anne would care to come in the machine. I'll ask her."
